

Abdullah Al Shalhoub

Abdullah Musaad Al Shalhoub is currently the Manager of the Arranging Department at Rothschild & Co. Previously, he served as a Senior Associate in Investment Banking at Al Ahli Capital Company between 2020 and 2024. During his tenure at Al Ahli Capital, Abdullah was involved in several advisory roles in the Investment Banking Department, including major initial public offerings and mergers and acquisitions. He played an essential role in the public offerings of ADES Holding, the world's largest offshore driller, and Arabian Drilling, a prominent onshore driller in Saudi Arabia, in addition to other initial public offerings and merger and acquisition transactions.

Before joining Al Ahli Capital, Abdullah was a Financial and Fraud Risk Specialist at the Saudi Stock Exchange, where he was responsible for managing risk assessments for new initiatives and assessing the risk of the Derivatives Market Department and Listing Department in the Saudi Exchange between 2019 and 2020. He began his professional career as an Assistant Analyst at Yaqeen Capital (previously known as FALCOM Financial Services), where he worked on investment banking and private equity, advising multiple companies on their initial public offerings and mergers and acquisitions from 2017 to 2019.

Abdullah holds a B.Sc. in Finance from King Saud University and has passed CFA Level 1. He has also completed several courses in financial markets and risk management.
